1. 1891 Plat and 1912 Sanborn Maps were used as baselines for building locations. They are available for viewing at the Nauvoo Historical Society's Weld House Museum, 1380 Mulholland.

2. Addresses in quotation marks indicate no existing structure at this location in 2010.

The printing office (1350) of The Nauvoo Independent c. the latter 1880's

A "motley crew" assembled in front of the printing office. (Don't you wonder which two were the Baumert brothers!)

The Nauvoo Independent was printed in this building (where the present Nauvoo Pharmacy now stands c. latter 1880's to latter 1890's before moving to the Temple House building in the next block, west). Michael Baumert, Jr., and older brother George were the publishers at this time.

In 1958 Eldred Kron built "Kron Pharmacy" on this site, moving from the Walter Building on the corner of the block to the west. He sold the building and business to the present owner in 1981. (Interestingly, the present pharmacist and owner, LuAnn Haas, worked for Kron in high school and college. She and her family even live in Kron's former house!)

Civil War veteran and prominent businessman, Hudson owned both the grocery store and the lumber yard across the street.

Hudson's Grocery Store

"Hudson's Grocery Store," was established in 1886 on the "Flats" before moving to Mulholland in 1888 and then to this location in 1892 (After Hudson retired, his daughter, Hazel Hudson Tedford, continued the business into the mid 1940's.

Grocery store/meat markets followed until the 1974, with different proprietors: Homer Hixson and the Vollraths. Matteo and Ila Cannizzaro purchased the building in the early 1950's. Son, Dale, continued in the business from 1961-1974, owning and operating the location's last grocery business. Later, it was home to The Grapevine newspaper, owned and run by Dale Bruegger.
